Sam Stone combines principles taken straight from Scripture with practical advice from life experience to lay the foundation for effective leadership. He reminds us that churches only do their best work with excellent leadership. He tackles timely topics like: the real head of the church, qualities of a good leader, the spiritual disciplines a leader must practice, the expectations a leader will face, suggestions for maximizing board meetings, and dynamics of the preacher/elder relationship.

If you are considering a church leadership position, or even if you are a veteran leader, Sam Stone's timeless advice will provide you with insight and encouragement.

Meet my Friend, the Holy Spirit by Alger Fitch

173 pages, 8 chapters with lessons and discussion questions

If you want to be a preacher of the Word, here is help for you, not only for your mind but also your spirit. Don DeWalt taught homiletics in the classroom for many years. His materials have been used to train thousands of preachers. His goal was always to prepare the man, and to help the prepared man to prepare the sermon.

DeWalt uses a very simple and logical approach to help the student of the Word to forcefully and convincingly present the truth to his hearers. He gives constant reminders of the importance of preparing the messenger, and issues many personal challenges.

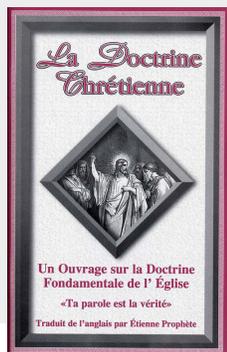

If You Want to Preach has been translated into several languages and is now being used around the world.
